VOLUNTARY NATIONAL REVIEW 2019

Providing leadership and direction to drive awareness, participation and the future agenda.

Mandate For Private Sector Participation

The Global Compact Network South Africa (GCNSA) is working with the Department of Planning, Monitoring and Evaluation (DPME) to support the Presidency in the communication of how effectively South Africa Inc. is delivering the Sustainable Development Goals that underpin the 2030 Agenda for transformational change. This report is due to be delivered to the United Nations in New York in July 2019. The scope of the report includes the public sector, civil society and the private sector, with the Global Compact Network of South Africa being the partner responsible for reporting on the private sector.

Our intention in this exercise is to establish:

- How companies are performing in terms of the SDGs.
- If we have company examples of collaboration on the SDGs.
- How and which SDGs are companies prioritizing and embedding in to overall strategy.
- How are companies measuring, tracking and communicating performance.

This is an opportunity to build a platform that unifies businesses, creating a foundation that builds solidarity, unifying private sector action with the National Development Plan, other public sector plans, as well as civil society and community initiatives.

Why Participate?

The United National Voluntary National Review process is a national process that will compact business, government and civil society to deliver the 2030 Agenda and the 17 Sustainable Development Goals, as well as the National Development Plan and Africa's Agenda for 2063.

Transformational Impact

Unite business and government to find and strengthen initiatives that solve the key challenges facing South Africa. Collaborate on prioritised positive impact.

Show Our Growth Potential

Demonstrate a positive growth trajectory for South Africa to global stakeholders including UN members states, forums and investor platforms.

Define Opportunities

Identify and collaborate on creating a marketplace for the prioritisation of opportunities to innovate in a way that unifies private and public sector players.

SDG Mobilisation Plan

Time is limited. During February we will be registering participants for the process. Our current focus is to create awareness about the initiative and to ensure solid representation of the South African private sector.

Call to Action

All organisations interested are encouraged to sign up early and create awareness.

Telling Our Story

Participants work with the facilitation team on the VNR collaboration platform to input priorities and insights.

Define Opportunity

Participants collaborate on the agenda to understand synergies and to plan future action and partnerships.

Move Forward

South African VNR to the United Nations in July, followed by key mobilisation events for the South African Agenda.

Company Sustainability Insights Reporting

All South African companies are invited to participate
